Known Bugs:
We do not account for prerequisites in our schedule generation and with the way that we add the classes to the schedule, some classes that should be taken far later in the academic plan are listed in the first semester.

Omissions:
- Recovery mechanism for users who forget their password
- Adding a guest account
- Users are able to input the semester they want to take a class during
- Different majors being offered as well as different degree programs (BS vs BA)
  - The web scraping and level of complication for a single major proved to be a ton of work so we were not able to implement any other majors into the planner.
- Users inputting the number of credit hours already taken
- Checking that changes to semesters do not violate the number of credit hours to remain a full-time student
